

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
One copy, one year.....$1 50
One copy, six months..... 75
One copy, four months..... 50
No deduction from these rates under any circumstances.
As we are compelled by law to pay postage in advance on papers sent outside of Ohio county, we are forced to require payment on subscriptions in advance.
All letters on business must be addressed to JOHN P. BARNETT, Publisher.

THE HARTFORD HERALD.

VOL. 9. HARTFORD, KENTUCKY, MAY 23, 1883. NO. 21.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Position	Per Line	Per Column	Per Page
First	100	100	100
Second	75	75	75
Third	50	50	50
Fourth	25	25	25
Fifth	10	10	10
Sixth	5	5	5
Seventh	2	2	2
Eighth	1	1	1
Ninth	1	1	1
Tenth	1	1	1

For a shorter time, at proportionate rate.
One inch of space constitutes a square.

DIRECTORY.

COUNTY DIRECTORY.

Hon. Lucius P. Little, Judge, Owensboro.
Hon. Joseph N. Smith, Attorney, Calhoun.
H. J. Beal, Jailer, Hartford.
Clarence Hardwick, Clerk, Hartford.
J. T. Barrett, Master Commissioner, Hartford.
D. L. Smith, Sheriff, Hartford, Deputies—
Marion Yates, Butler; M. L. Heverin, Rosine; Sam Brown, Fordville; J. H.
Kimmel, Calhoun.
Court begins first Mondays in May and November, and continues four weeks each term.

COUNTY COURT.

C. W. Massie, Judge, Hartford.
J. H. Smith, Clerk, Hartford.
H. B. Kinsolving, Attorney, Hartford.
Court begins on the first Monday in every month.

QUARTERLY COURT.

Begin on the third Mondays in January,
April, July and October.

COURT OF CLAIMS.

Begin on the first Mondays in January
and October.

OTHER COUNTY OFFICERS.

E. P. Barnett, Surveyor, Hartford.
John W. Mosley, Assessor, Whitesville.
F. L. Felix, School Commissioner, Hartford.
POLICE CHIEFS.

Hartford—J. O. Gaffney, Judge, fourth
Mondays in March, June, Sept. and Dec.
John Greenwood, Marshal.
Beaver Dam—J. H. Baker, Judge, courts first
Saturday in January, April, July and October.
S. P. Taylor, Marshal.
Cromwell—P. W. Gilstrap, Judge, second
Saturday in January, April, July and October.
Cervato—Henry Tinsley, Judge, second Saturday in January, April, July and October.
Vacant, Marshall.

Hartford—J. W. Lankford, Judge, Courts
held third Saturday in January, April, July and October. P. M. Brown, Marshal.
Rockport—C. J. Jones, Judge, vacant Marshal, Courts held first Saturdays in January, April, July and October.
Rosine—S. D. Morgan, Judge, Jas. W. Taylor, Marshal, H. W. Lewis, Deputy, Courts held first Saturday in January, April, July
and October.

JUSTICES COURTS.

FORDVILLE.
R. P. Withers, Mar. 2, June 5, Sept. 8, Dec. 7.
James Miller, Mar. 2, June 5, Sept. 8, Dec. 7.
ROCKPORT.
P. D. Taylor, Mar. 2, June 5, Sept. 8, Dec. 7.
J. D. Holtzner, Mar. 2, June 5, Sept. 8, Dec. 7.
A. B. Bennett, Mar. 2, June 5, Sept. 8, Dec. 7.
J. D. Byers, Mar. 2, June 5, Sept. 8, Dec. 7.
N. A. Brown, Mar. 2, June 5, Sept. 8, Dec. 7.
W. L. Howe, Mar. 2, June 5, Sept. 8, Dec. 7.
ROCKPORT.
J. D. Miller, Mar. 2, June 5, Sept. 8, Dec. 7.
W. L. Howe, Mar. 2, June 5, Sept. 8, Dec. 7.
ROCKPORT.
J. D. Miller, Mar. 2, June 5, Sept. 8, Dec. 7.
W. L. Howe, Mar. 2, June 5, Sept. 8, Dec. 7.
ROCKPORT.
J. D. Miller, Mar. 2, June 5, Sept. 8, Dec. 7.
W. L. Howe, Mar. 2, June 5, Sept. 8, Dec. 7.

CONSTABLES.

Fordville—J. W. Payne, Post-office
address, Fordville.
Hartford—J. H. Sapp.
Hartford—J. C. Barrett, Post-office
Hartford, Ky.
Rockport—Geo. M. Maddox.
Rosine—P. W. Tabor, Post-office, Sulphur Springs.
Cromwell—S. M. Leach, Post-office Cromwell.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

Baptist—Services first Sunday and Sunday night in every month—Sunday night
preceding—W. P. Bennett, Pastor.
M. E. Church South—Services third Sunday and Sunday night, and fourth Sunday night
in each month—Rev. R. C. Alexander, Pastor.
Catholic—St. Francis—Services second Saturday at night—Rev. W. L. Smith, pastor.
Methodist Episcopal (colored)—Services
every Sunday morning and night, Sabbath School at 9 A. M.—Rev. Isaac H. Smith, pastor.
Alpha Baptist Church (colored)—First and Third Sundays at 11 A. M. and 7 1/2 P. M.

LODGE MEETINGS.

A. V. M.—HARTFORD LODGE, No. 156.—
Meets third Monday night in each month.
S. E. Hill, W. M.
H. W. Winchell, Secy.
R. A. M.—KEYSTONE CHAPTER, No.
110.—Meets second Monday in each month.
W. H. Moore, W. M.
H. W. Winchell, Secy.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

WM. F. GREGORY.
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
HARTFORD, KY.
Prompt attention given to the collection of claims. Office, Grand Jury room.

CHAS. M. PENDLETON,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
and Notary Public.
Office, Taylor Block, Public Square,
HARTFORD, KY.

H. D. McHENRY, HENRY McHENRY,
H. D. McHENRY & SON,
ATTORNEYS & COUNSELLORS AT LAW
HARTFORD, KY.
Will close up all business of the late firm
of McHenry & Hill.

J. EDWIN ROWE,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
HARTFORD, KY.
Office in Court House.
Prompt attention given to the Collection of
all claims.

E. D. WALKER, E. C. HUBBARD,
WALKER & HUBBARD,
LAWYERS,
HARTFORD, KY.
Will practice in Ohio and adjoining counties also in the Court of Appeals.

C. W. MASSIE,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
HARTFORD, KY.
Will practice in the Courts of Ohio and adjoining counties and in the Court of Appeals
Office—in Court House.

A. B. BAIRD,
SURVEYOR
Office—Over Anderson's Bazaar.
HARTFORD, KY.

Will make Surveys, Plats, Diagrams of lands, will write Deeds, Mortgages, Bonds, Leases, Releases, Assignments, Contracts, Bill
of Sale, Notes, Receipts, and all kinds of writings in relation to the transfer of real or personal property, make up Abstracts of title to lands, Possession lands, and buy and sell lands on commission. Will take and carry depositions. Patronage solicited.
Rates and terms moderate. v-3-42-17

E. D. GUFFY,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Office in Sheriff's Office,
Hartford, Kentucky.

BANK OF HARTFORD, KY.

Money in any amount received on deposit and repaid at any time on the check of the party depositing, and no charges made for handling.
Exchanges bought on any point and sold on New York, Louisville, Evansville and Owensboro.

Ho! For the Seeley Mines STORE!

We have just received a complete stock of

DRY GOODS,

CLOTHING,

BOOTS AND SHOES,

HATS AND CAPS, NOTIONS,

GROCERIES OF ALL KINDS!

Including a Fine line of

Canned Fruits,

Queensware, Hardware, Cutlery, Stoves and

Tinware, Farming Implements, Seeds,

NICE LINE OF FURNITURE,

All the Necessary Drugs, and in fact everything of every kind that the people wish or need.

At the LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICE!

For Cash or Country Produce.

I have secured the services of that efficient and honest salesman, B. V. McKinney, who will be glad to see his Green River

friends and wait upon them with pleasure,

and with more than the grace of a Chesterfield. Come one, come all, and see that I have told you the truth.

MICHAEL STANLEY,

Seeley Coal Mines, Ky.

Dr. CLARK JOHNSON'S

Indian Blood Syrup

Cures all diseases of the Stomach, Liver,

Bowels, Kidneys, Skin and Blood.

Millions testify to its efficacy in healing the above named diseases and pronounce it to be the BEST REMEDY KNOWN TO MAN.

Guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia.

AGENTS WANTED.

Laboratory 77 W. 3d St. New York City. Druggists sell it

Dr. Clark Johnson:—The INDIAN BLOOD SYRUP cured me of a very severe case of Yellow Jaundice. I advise all similarly afflicted to give it a fair and unprejudiced trial.

J. M. CULHAM.

Mrs. Rugby's Nephew,

The End Justifies the Means

BY DELL CROW

In the far west, on a large farm lived

Mrs. Rugby, a taxon widow of robust constitution and indomitable energy, notwithstanding fifty winters had passed her by, she carried her hundred and eighty pounds as firmly, if not so gracefully, as a girl; while her ruddy face was the very personification of good nature and hearty cheer.

The only help in her household was Jessie Kiles, a young girl whom

Mrs. Rugby had taken as her own when an infant.

Jessie was no beauty; her stalwart form and sunburnt complexion be-labeled her from that title, but nature had bestowed upon her a luxuriant growth of hair, black as a raven's wing, and painted cheek and lip with richest ver-million.

She and Mrs. Rugby were always on the best of terms, sharing together the duties and pleasures of life. Yet people wondered that Jessie could stay in that old farm house and cheerfully

perform the monotonous routine of duties not worth for change.

They did not see the side-play; they did not know that Jessie had a lover, Jasper James, one of the farm hands,

who was ever her shadow during each spare moment, and always kept for her the sweetest peaches when gathering, and on Saturday evening would cut the loveliest flowers in Mrs. Rugby's marvelous garden for Jessie's Sunday bouquet, whispering as he presented them to her that he thought her much more beautiful than any of the flowers. No, they did not know this;

had they known, they would have ceased to wonder.

Mrs. Rugby chuckled good humoredly over the love affair, and blessed the couple in her heart, but gave no outward demonstration of anything unusual.

She knew and managed everything from the knives and spoons in the kitchen to the farming implements in the field; no knife was ever polished,

nor plow taken to the shop for repair,

without consulting her. She knew how much each acre would yield and how deep the furrows should be made. This remarkable woman labored from daybreak until dark and even economized

her sleeping moments by feeding her sheep and counting her poultry in dreams. If prodigal in aught, it was in the love she so boundlessly bestowed upon her nephew, Arthur West.

Arthur had been left an orphan
when quite young, wholly dependent upon his mother's sister, Mrs. Rugby.
His mischievous mirth had been the torment and life of the old house for sixteen years, when it became necessary for him to quit his home and enter school in the east. Since that sad and touching farewell at the gate, so crushing to his boyish heart, he had become a successful graduate and was now a distinguished lawyer.

Notwithstanding his prolonged absence of eight years, Mrs. Rugby's faithful heart had not despaired; she watched with yearning tenderness for his return. In the fall, she preserved the choicest fruit and hoarded her best wine for his coming during the winter;
in the spring, she planted whatever he relished, in good faith that he would return during the summer. Thus, year by year, she watched and prayed.
Never a train sounded its shrill whistle
at the near depot, during these many years without awakening in her bosom
the hope that her boy had come at last.

Nor was he indifferent to his aunt.
Every week he wrote her an affectionate letter, in which he gave her an account of his success or failure, either in school or at the bar, always spiced with his spirit of fun.

At length, her patience was rewarded,
not by her nephew's arrival, but by a letter that stated his intention of doing so in a few weeks. It ran thus:

"Dear Auntie—I am bored almost to distraction with city life and endless lawsuits; will be at home in two or three weeks to annoy you and enjoy life. Strange that out of so many attacks of homesickness, this is the most unbearable.

Confound it, my head is quite turned,
and I fear my heart is in a most deplorable condition. Bosh and nonsense that a man of my stability should become giddy about a little golden-haired maiden of eighteen or nineteen years, merely a school girl, you may say.

Well, I might as well let you know
all.

Five years ago, I boarded with Mr.
Lorenzo, you remember. I became blindly in love with his little daughter, Vivian. Young as she was, I made love to her and asked her to be my wife. She laughed at my folly and told me to go away or she would call her papa. I left that night without bidding anyone good-bye. My heart was torn and bleeding, but my resolution was fixed—I would shake off her witchery, would forget her. I succeeded so well that in time her memory ceased to be painful. From that time up to this evening, I have never met a girl that I could love.

By the urgent request of a friend, I,
an hour ago, was prevailed upon to attend a party, given by him; and there I saw, for the first time since my nocturnal flight, the goddess and angel of my younger days. The moment I saw her, I loved her passionately, fervently.

All the former adoration of my heart was aroused to a superlative degree. I asked my friend to bring about an introductory, but she excused herself, alleging as a reason, that she would remain only a short while and was already engaged. She never even deigned so much as a glance at me. I left shortly, greatly agitated and am writing to you while the dance is still going on.

I must get away from here, or there will be no end to my rashness.
Away with your lovesick hearts! I am coming to my old and sunny home
to rusticate and get my spirits up.
Love to all, look out for
Your naughty nephew,
ARTHUR WEST."

After reading it twice through, she put it down to wipe her eyes, which were suspiciously bright, and took it up to read it again. During the entire reading, joy and pity chased each other across her ample countenance like sunshine and shadow; but when she had read to the very last line for the fourth time, joy had the ascendancy and refused to be chased any farther.

"Jessie, come here, do come here," cried Mrs. Rugby eagerly, after looking out with eager eyes to see if Arthur was in sight; though he had stated that he would not be at home
under two weeks.

Jessie, with sleeves tucked up and hands covered with dough, hastily obeyed the summons.

"He is coming! he is coming!" cried
the old lady, and grasping Jessie by the shoulders, shook her wildly. For the life of her, Jessie could not tell who it was that was coming, but the effort
she was making to maintain her equilibrium, prevented her from asking.

"Is the girl deaf, or dumb, or heartless? He is coming, my dear boy, my Arthur, are you not happy?"

Jessie, now released from the old lady's grasp (she having sunk into a chair from exhaustion) ventured to say she was overjoyed, but in fact, was fearful that her benefactress was a little demented on that subject.

The sight of the letter, shortly after, however, set her mind at rest, and she congratulated the old lady right heartily.

Days of hasty preparation and eager expectancy followed. From garret to cellar, from kitchen to parlor, every thing underwent a thorough revision.

I said "parlor," and such; it was not one of your elegant city parlors, but a parlor nevertheless, old and quaint,
with low doors and high wooden paneling and two little windows so high from the floor that they looked like sky-lights. Arthur used to say they looked like two green eyes, and when the blinds were down, a little spider-legged table stood in one corner, on which lay the family record, and in the opposite corner was a bookcase, filled with idle books, for no one had any time to read them. The high cane-bottom chairs, with round tops, were set with great care against the wall, an equal number on a side; while over all there was an air of precision,
not to say stiffness.

(To be continued.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 15th, 1880.
GENTLEMEN—Having been a sufferer
for a long time from nervous prostration and general debility, I was advised to try Hop Bitters. I have taken one bottle, and I have been rapidly getting better ever since and I think it the best medicine I ever used. I am now gaining strength and appetite, which was all gone and I was in despair until I tried your Bitters. I am now well able to go about and do my own work. Before taking it, I was completely prostrated.

MRS. MARY STUART.
Ladies Attention.

For every subscriber to the HERALD,
for one year secured for us by a lady, either young or old, married or single we will give an order for a sheet of choice music of the large assortment kept by J. W. Ford. Now's your time to get music without money. It will be an easy matter for anybody to get her husband, brother, or sweet heart to subscribe.

"Dragging Pains."

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., DEAR SIR—My wife had suffered with female weakness for nearly three years
and at times, she could hardly move, she had such dragging pains. We often saw your "Favorite Prescription" advertised, but supposed, like most patent medicines, it did not amount to anything, but at last concluded to try a bottle, which she did. It made her sick at first, but it began to show its effect in a marked improvement, and two bottles cured her. Yours, etc.,
A. J. HUYCK,
Deposit, N. Y.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

W. P. Rinder, Esq. Nominated for Representative.

Pursuant to the call of the County
Executive Committee, the Republicans of Ohio county met in convention at the Court House in Hartford, Ky., Monday, May 14, 1883.

The meeting was called to order by Dr.
L. Smith, Chairman of County Executive Committee. W. J. Milligan was elected Chairman and W. G. Duncan Secretary.

On motion, the chair appointed G. C.
Wedding, H. A. Stevens, J. J. Leach, M.
Ragland, Jas. Barnett and E. F. Bartlett

a committee on credentials and resolutions.

The chair appointed a committee to select a County Executive Committee, which committee reported the following persons, who were unanimously selected: R. P. Rinder, S. B. Bishop, Jno.
Barnett, C. M. Pendleton, L. L. Taylor,
J. H. Kimmel, Wm. J. Milligan, D. Poole
and E. D. Guffy, and they were instructed to appoint a committee in each voting district in the county.

The committee on credentials reported to the convention that the basis of vote be one for every 50 votes cast for Duncan at last August election, making 38 votes in the county.

A motion was then made to allow the delegates from uninstructed districts to cast the vote of their district. Carried.

Then W. P. Rinder, H. B. Taylor and Melvin Taylor were nominated for Representative, which resulted as follows: Rinder, 22 votes; H. B. Taylor, 13 and Melvin Taylor, 1. The nomination of W. P. Rinder was then made unanimous.

The following resolution was then by G. C. Wedding, in an appropriate speech, offered to the convention, which resolution was unanimously carried:

WHEREAS Great and radical changes in our constitution and statutory laws are indispensably necessary to our moral, intellectual and financial advancement along with the other States of the great Union, as well as essential to the development of the vast material resources of the Commonwealth, and

WHEREAS, It behooves the Republican party in the approaching canvass for the various State offices to select men as standard bearers, to be men of character and decided ability; men who are capable and willing to boldly and fearlessly discuss the changes needed in our State government, and

Resolved, That our delegates to the State convention, to be held in Lexington on the 22d of May, be instructed to cast the vote of the county solely for E. C. Hubbard for the office of Attorney General, and to use all honorable and fair means to secure his nomination, and as to the candidates for the other State offices, our candidates go uninstructed.

Moved that all good Republicans be instructed to go to the State Convention as delegates.

Ordered that the proceedings of this convention be printed in the HERALD, Louisville Commercial and Southern Progress.

W. J. MILLIGAN, Chairman.
W. G. DUNCAN, Secretary.

Speech of G. C. Wedding.

The following remarks were made by the above gentleman in support of the resolution adopted by the Republican Convention, Monday, endorsing E. C.
Hubbard for Attorney General:

GENTLEMEN OF THE CONVENTION:—
At no period in the history of the Republican party in Kentucky has she had so good an opportunity as this to add hosts to her ranks and accomplish some of the good results for which she has so long and gallantly contended.

When the war clouds of the Rebellion were burst and scattered, as it were, to the four winds of the Heavens,
now well on to twenty years ago,
Republicanism in Kentucky was extremely odious, and its champions and advocates were socially and politically ostracized, and by this means thousands of men were driven into the Democratic party who were then and are to-day Republicans. Yet, still a few bold, patriotic spirits, who cared more for principle than social standing or the emoluments of office, ignoring the taunts and jeers of their political adversaries, held on to their Republican sentiments and went among the people disseminating their views, and through their efforts we can today exclaim that Republicans, as well as Republicanism, are respected even in Kentucky. With public sentiment against us, with wealth and social influence to combat,
with early training to overcome

GRAND OPENING

of all Kinds of Goods JUST RECEIVED FROM New York AUCTION

Which will be sold Lower than Ever.

Ladies' Silk Embroidered Neck Ties, worth 25 cts for 10 cts
Ladies' Collars, worth double the amount, for 10, 15, 20, 25 & 30 cts
A very fine Collar from 50 cts to $2.00
Ladies' Silk Lace Neck Ties, Latest Styles, worth $1.50 for 75 cts
Ladies' Silk Neck Ties, Grand, worth $5.00 for $2.50
Six-foot Table Cloth, for 25 cts
Turkey-red Table Cloth, 60 cts per yard

Silk Handkerchiefs, a nice variety.
Linen Towels, 20 cts a pair
A Fine Shirt for 75 cts
Ladies' Men's and Children's Shoes, best goods, all sizes and prices.
Straw and Fur Hats very low.
All-wool Jeans at less than manufacturers' prices.

Our CLOTHING is Quite Low, but Stock is too Immense to give you rates on all, so give you a few prices:
All-wool Suits, worth $11.00 for $7.50
" " " 12.00 for 9.00
" " " 13.00 for 10.00
" " " 16.00 for 12.00
And others in proportion.
Come one, come all, and secure bargains at

H. SMALL'S Trade Palace

THE HERALD.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 23, 1883

OUR AGENTS.

The following persons are authorized to receive subscriptions and renewals, advertising in the HERALD, orders for job work, etc., etc.:
WILL COOPER, Cincinnati.
EDWARD HALEY, Livermore.
DAVID ROGERS, Buford.
JNO. T. SMITH, Jr., Fordsville.
S. P. BENNETT, Ceraulo.
DE. G. R. SANDERS, Centertown.
WILLIAM MAY, Haynesville.
J. B. HOCKER, Sutton.
T. C. FLOYD, Whitesville.
V. B. RAINS, Rosine.
HON. R. P. HOCKER, Beaver Dam.
W. A. GIBSON, Caneyville.
MRS. NANNIE W. JONES, Horton.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce that RICHARD H. STEVENS, of Beaver Dam voting precinct is a candidate to represent Ohio county in the next Legislature of Kentucky. He was unanimously nominated and requested to make the race by the Greenback convention held in Hartford April 24, 1883, and having accepted the same he is now before the people and asks a due consideration of his claims.

We are authorized to announce that W. P. RENDLER, of the Centertown District, is the Republican candidate to represent Ohio county in the next Legislature of Kentucky. Election, Monday, August 6th, 1883.

PERSONALS.

Persons in town having visitors or any other item they would like in this column would confer a favor if they would inform this office. The town is not very large, but one hand can't get all over it every day and run a newspaper.

H. P. Taylor, returned from the convention via Chicago.

Mr. Wilbur B. Hayward, of Sulphur Springs, a former student of Hartford College, gave us a call Tuesday.

We were glad to see our old friend W. T. Bean, of Sulphur Spring in town Tuesday. He hopes he will come often.

Dr. L. G. Armendt and wife of Masonville, were visiting the Doctor's father's family near Hartford during the past week.

L. R. Becker, Esq., leaves to-day for Caneyville, to assist H. F. Armendt in a job of house carpentering, and will be absent some time.

We are glad to see our old friend B. Horn, of Daviess county, a former student of Hartford College with us. He will remain over several days.

Messrs E. D. Guffy and C. M. Pendleton, left yesterday for Lexington, Ky., to attend the State Convention, to be held there by the Republicans, commencing to-day.

Our friend M. A. Dixon, of the shoe house of Bamberger, Streng & Co., Louisville was in town last Thursday. He was supremely happy when the wives announced Knott's nomination.

Henry F. Armendt, of this place, the boss carpenter of Western Kentucky; was home last week and left Sunday for Caneyville where he will erect a handsome residence for Hardin Wilson; then he will go to Beverlyville and build a mill for Edgar Bennett. He had just completed a nice residence in Masonville for his son, Dr. L. G. Armendt. He is a first class workman, and has contracts in advance always waiting for him.

Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, 50c.

Pike's Toothache Drops cure in one minute.

Custom made shoes and boots at Z. A. Rosenberg's.

You can get a sewing machine of S. B. Bishop at $10 to $50.

Our old friend G. C. Westerfield, was in town this week, and paid the HERALD office a visit. He is now engaged in sign and house painting, and paper hanging. He has done some work here, and is engaged at present in Beaver Dam. We understand that his work gives entire satisfaction.

Remember you can buy a good sewing machine with cover for $20 at Anderson's Bazaar.

—Don't fail to see the fun at Anderson's Bazaar next week.

—The wheat crop is coming out most wonderfully.

—Rev. R. C. Alexander filled his regular appointment here Sunday last at eleven o'clock and at night.

—Anderson's Bazaar will give more for washed wool than you can get in Louisville. This is no advertising trick but an actual fact.

—The Red Front is still ahead of all competition in the way of groceries, family supplies country produce etc. They keep a fresh and full assortment all the time.

—A name sake and relative of our's, Mr. Barrett, near Whitesville, Daviess county, had a fine horse to runaway, and kill himself last week. The horse was valued at $175.

—We take pride in calling the attention of our readers to the Serial Story, by Dell Crow. She evinces the talent of an author, and we are very grateful for any thing that she may favor our readers with.

—G. W. Gordon, of Cool Springs district, has invented a corn sheller, for which he has obtained a patent. He claims that a bushel of corn can be shelled in ten minutes, that it will last fifteen years with ordinary care. Price, $1; county and State rights for sale. A specimen sheller can be seen at this office.

—Messrs. Henry and Albert Armendt, of Hines' Mill, last week sold to Messrs. Leach and Gray, of Cromwell, eighty hogs and delivered them at Beaver Dam last Thursday. Some of the hogs weighed over 400 pounds and their average weight was 205 pounds. The prices paid was 5, 5 1/2 and 6 cents, a large majority of them selling at 6 cents and aggregated $988. They had been fed on slop at the distillery.

—The Hartford Base Ball Club, under Capt. Weller, is about organized. Pendleton and Griffin will be the regular battery. Guffy, of Morgantown, the phenomenal relief-pitcher, and a hard hitter, thanks to our able and watchful captain, has signed for the season. The new uniforms are handsome and quite aesthetic. The team promises to be a strong one. They will play their first game, with a picked nine, at Fair Ground Park Sunday evening.

—A tramp, calling himself Jim King, stopped last Friday night at the residence of the late S. Woodward, now occupied by Mr. Sam Barnett and family and Miss Esther and Annie Woodward.

He said he had no money, but would work the next day to pay for his lodging. He found out that the family would all leave next evening. So he left Saturday morning and went back Saturday night and robbed the house taking about $10 out of Miss Esther's trunk and some valuable notes. He came to Hartford that night and registered at the Hartford House as Jos. Winn, Canada. He left here Monday, and on the road near No Creek Church he met Clayton Woodward coming in to get a writ for him. He had his hair trimmed while here and Woodward did not know him from the description but when he got here he was satisfied that he had met his man, and got the Sheriff and lit out after him. Up to this writing they have not caught him that we know. The notes are dated April 25th, 1883, and one of them is on B. F. McCormick for about $90 and the other on Simpson Barnett for about $42, both executed to Miss Esther Woodward.

—THOUGH April showers and the sunshine of May have called forth the green grass and kissed the sweet flowers in this beautiful spring time of 1883, yet the storm king of the north has again ruthlessly invaded the homes of the roses, blew his icy breath on the wild flowers by the meadow stream, and attempted to arrest the tide of happy people that daily crowd the streets of our town as they hurry on to Anderson's Bazaar to secure the bargains that are daily offered at this popular resort. But the crowd of anxious people still crowd on, and last week witnessed the busiest time the Bazaar has had since its opening here. Yet large as their business was then, next week bids fair to surpass anything ever dreamed of in a business way in Hartford. The arrangements have all been made, the bargains will all be here, and we venture to assert that goods will be sold cheaper next week than ever before in the history of Hartford. Those who fail to visit the Bazaar will regret it the longest day they live.

—Don't fail to visit the Bazaar when you come to court next week.

—All-wool jeans and cotton cheap at Z. A. Rosenberg's.

—Born. To the wife, of Wm. Pirtle, May 20th, 1881, a son.

—If you want ladies hats or dress goods, call on S. B. Bishop, Assignee.

—Call and see those new farm wagons and buggies for sale at King's stable.

—You can sell your wool on better terms at Anderson's Bazaar than at any place else in the Green River country.

—We gladly welcome our genial friend, Mr. Warren Griffin, home again after an absence of several weeks in Elizabethtown.

—A man has just died of remorse at Sulphur Springs for not buying a White Sewing Machine for his wife last month. You can get them only at Anderson's Bazaar.

—E. J. Donnelly, is meeting with considerable encouragement in the marble business here. He is the man to make it a success and can and no doubt will succeed.

—There never was such a rage for white dresses as there is this year. Anderson's Bazaar will offer 500 yards white India linens next week at 12 1/2 to 25 cents per yard.

—Park Haynes, of color, living near Pleasant Ridge, owns a mare that has twin mules. The colts are the same color and sex. Uncle Park is a well-to-do farmer, and will do a good part by the little kickers.

—We were glad to grasp the hand of our old friend, H. Small, once more. He returned last Sunday after quite a stay in New York. His "A. T." in this issue shows where he has been and what he has been doing. Call and see his goods.

—The survivors of the 11th Kentucky regiment are hereby called to meet in re-union on the 4th day of July, 1883, at Young's Mills, 4 miles south of Morgantown, on the Morgantown and Russellville road. By E. F. Kinnaird, Maj.

—Remember, that King's stable is the cheapest and best place in town to get your horse fed. When you come to Court next week give him a call. Special rates given to jurymen's horses. Horses boarded by the day or week at the very lowest rates.

—Mr. Frank L. Felix, School Commissioner, can be found at the HERALD office until after Circuit Court. He occupies the Grand Jury room and has to vacate it during Court. He will also assist us in editing and publishing the HERALD while officing with us.

—Died—Thursday, May 17th, 1883, at 11 o'clock, p. m., at her residence, near Sacramento, McLean county, Mrs. Jane Eaves, widow of the late Judge Sanders Eaves. The funeral services were held at her residence on Saturday following at 10 o'clock, a. m. Rev. Davenport preached the funeral sermon. A large number of the friends and relatives were in attendance.

—Miss Mary Tucker, of Fordsville district, and Miss Mattie Hagerman and her brother, Joe Hagerman, living a few miles above Hartford, passed through here last Thursday on a pleasure trip to Livermore and Owensboro. The young ladies let the sunshine of their countenances dispel the gloom of ye editor's office for a short while, for which we are grateful.

—Lost—May 1st, '83, my dead-head book. I will charge 50 cents for each passenger to and from Beaver Dam and must have the pay when the work is done until I find that book, due notice of which will be given. P. S.—I am not offering a reward to the finder of said book.

JOHN S. VAUGHT, Prop. Beaver Dam Stage Line.

—Born—To the wife, of D. C. Black, May 19th, 1883, a son.

—Men's, boys', children and Misses' straw, wool and fur hats at Z. A. Rosenberg's.

—S. B. Bishop is actually selling clothing cheaper than it was ever sold in Hartford before.

—They are building a new christian church in the neighborhood of John J. Felix, a few miles above Hartford.

—A new version by S. E. H.: A little drinking is a dangerous thing; Drink deep or touch not the sour-mash spring.

—Strangers having business at the Court-house next week will find it on Market street just opposite Anderson's Bazaar.

—New buggies or wagons exchanged for horses, carts, oats or sold low for cash at King's stable. Call and see them.

—Owing to the lateness of the season, I will close out my spring and summer stock at low figures. Call and examine them. Z. A. Rosenberg.

—If our gardeners would try the cabbage plants for cabbage plants like the tobacco raisers do for tobacco, they would be more successful.

—Thomas Tilford, proprietor of Tilford's Restaurant is prepared to take care of jurymen litigants or witnesses during Circuit Court. Good fare at reasonable prices.

—Gents furnishing goods, consisting of shirts, underwear, collars, ties, cuffs, gloves, etc. Best to be had only at Z. A. Rosenberg's.

—Tobacco plants have been damaged by the cool spells and bugs, save where they have been covered by canvass, which protects them.

—Mr. W. C. Chapman is wearing a broad Proctor Knott smile, and Col. W. H. Moore also took a "smile" at the result on his return home.

—Tobacco plants that have been covered with canvass, are almost universally good, while those not thus protected, are in many instances ruined by the cool weather or bugs.

—Died, at her home a few miles East of Hartford, Wednesday May 16th, 1883, Mrs. Missouri Likens, wife of Marion Likens. She died shouting and perfectly happy. Her remains were interred in the Bethel church yard.

—Here again, with a pointed quill, Or sharpened pencil if you choose, To say we are in business still, Selling cheap clothing hats and shoes, A choice stock of dry goods too, Fancy notions of every kind, Nothing charged for showing you through, Just call and see the undersigned, Thos. Gillstrap Exchange Emporium Cromwell Ky.

—W. A. Austin, Beaver Dam, Ky., respectfully announces to the people of the surrounding country that he has on hand a fine assortment of coffins, which he will furnish on short call in the best style and at reasonable prices. Patronage is solicited.

—Anderson's Bazaar will offer bargains in five hundred different articles next week in order to secure the trade that will visit Court. Nothing like it was ever heard of before. This paper would not contain a list of one-fourth of bargains to be seen. You will have to call and see for yourself.

—Lost—May 1st, '83, my dead-head book. I will charge 50 cents for each passenger to and from Beaver Dam and must have the pay when the work is done until I find that book, due notice of which will be given. P. S.—I am not offering a reward to the finder of said book.

JOHN S. VAUGHT, Prop. Beaver Dam Stage Line.

—The Dark-Browed Azrael Has again visited our town and claimed another of our loved ones, Mrs. Sallie A. Taylor, wife of the late Rev. James Taylor. Miss Sallie Morris was born Dec. 18th, 1794, in Prince Ann county, Virginia; was married to Rev. James Taylor, Dec. 18th, 1811, and moved early to Harlinburg, Brockenridge county, Ky., where they lived until after her husband's death. Since then, she has made her home here with her daughter, Mrs. H. D. McHenry. The sad event occurred Monday, May 21st, 1883, at 9 o'clock, a. m. She lived an exemplary christian. Her heart turned in reverential love and worship to Him who doeth all things well, and from her higher, faithful trust, came the sunlight of that pure religion which illumined her daily life. The latch string of her door was always on the outside for strangers as well as friends; her motto, "Those that entertain strangers, entertain angels unawares." Her neat and tastefully arranged home was adorned by the cultivation of flowers, which rendered it quite attractive for the young. In her sunny presence was the charm of every circle that she graced. We seldom find united so much personal loveliness, intellectual culture and refinement of taste in a being beneath our conception of angelic perfection. Just a few hours after the close of her long and well spent life, we stood by the downy couch, prepared by loving hands, and looked upon the calm, sweet face in the fleecy folds of her cap and tie, but with no feeling of sadness, for oh, how beautiful in death was this dreamless sleeper, with the lingering influence of a pleasant, happy smile as the angels kissed her spirit away. No wonder that the radiance still lingered, it was the re-union of a loving husband and dear ones, the fullest realization of a christian's hope. Yesterday afternoon, tender hands gently bore all that remained of the loved one to the home of the dead, where the soft air of the springtime will kiss the opening flowers that will keep watch over her sacred dust. Farewell, dear friend, loving mother, and sainted grandmother, a long farewell.

—The Dark-Browed Azrael Has again visited our town and claimed another of our loved ones, Mrs. Sallie A. Taylor, wife of the late Rev. James Taylor. Miss Sallie Morris was born Dec. 18th, 1794, in Prince Ann county, Virginia; was married to Rev. James Taylor, Dec. 18th, 1811, and moved early to Harlinburg, Brockenridge county, Ky., where they lived until after her husband's death. Since then, she has made her home here with her daughter, Mrs. H. D. McHenry. The sad event occurred Monday, May 21st, 1883, at 9 o'clock, a. m. She lived an exemplary christian. Her heart turned in reverential love and worship to Him who doeth all things well, and from her higher, faithful trust, came the sunlight of that pure religion which illumined her daily life. The latch string of her door was always on the outside for strangers as well as friends; her motto, "Those that entertain strangers, entertain angels unawares." Her neat and tastefully arranged home was adorned by the cultivation of flowers, which rendered it quite attractive for the young. In her sunny presence was the charm of every circle that she graced. We seldom find united so much personal loveliness, intellectual culture and refinement of taste in a being beneath our conception of angelic perfection. Just a few hours after the close of her long and well spent life, we stood by the downy couch, prepared by loving hands, and looked upon the calm, sweet face in the fleecy folds of her cap and tie, but with no feeling of sadness, for oh, how beautiful in death was this dreamless sleeper, with the lingering influence of a pleasant, happy smile as the angels kissed her spirit away. No wonder that the radiance still lingered, it was the re-union of a loving husband and dear ones, the fullest realization of a christian's hope. Yesterday afternoon, tender hands gently bore all that remained of the loved one to the home of the dead, where the soft air of the springtime will kiss the opening flowers that will keep watch over her sacred dust. Farewell, dear friend, loving mother, and sainted grandmother, a long farewell.

—The Dark-Browed Azrael Has again visited our town and claimed another of our loved ones, Mrs. Sallie A. Taylor, wife of the late Rev. James Taylor. Miss Sallie Morris was born Dec. 18th, 1794, in Prince Ann county, Virginia; was married to Rev. James Taylor, Dec. 18th, 1811, and moved early to Harlinburg, Brockenridge county, Ky., where they lived until after her husband's death. Since then, she has made her home here with her daughter, Mrs. H. D. McHenry. The sad event occurred Monday, May 21st, 1883, at 9 o'clock, a. m. She lived an exemplary christian. Her heart turned in reverential love and worship to Him who doeth all things well, and from her higher, faithful trust, came the sunlight of that pure religion which illumined her daily life. The latch string of her door was always on the outside for strangers as well as friends; her motto, "Those that entertain strangers, entertain angels unawares." Her neat and tastefully arranged home was adorned by the cultivation of flowers, which rendered it quite attractive for the young. In her sunny presence was the charm of every circle that she graced. We seldom find united so much personal loveliness, intellectual culture and refinement of taste in a being beneath our conception of angelic perfection. Just a few hours after the close of her long and well spent life, we stood by the downy couch, prepared by loving hands, and looked upon the calm, sweet face in the fleecy folds of her cap and tie, but with no feeling of sadness, for oh, how beautiful in death was this dreamless sleeper, with the lingering influence of a pleasant, happy smile as the angels kissed her spirit away. No wonder that the radiance still lingered, it was the re-union of a loving husband and dear ones, the fullest realization of a christian's hope. Yesterday afternoon, tender hands gently bore all that remained of the loved one to the home of the dead, where the soft air of the springtime will kiss the opening flowers that will keep watch over her sacred dust. Farewell, dear friend, loving mother, and sainted grandmother, a long farewell.

—The Dark-Browed Azrael Has again visited our town and claimed another of our loved ones, Mrs. Sallie A. Taylor, wife of the late Rev. James Taylor. Miss Sallie Morris was born Dec. 18th, 1794, in Prince Ann county, Virginia; was married to Rev. James Taylor, Dec. 18th, 1811, and moved early to Harlinburg, Brockenridge county, Ky., where they lived until after her husband's death. Since then, she has made her home here with her daughter, Mrs. H. D. McHenry. The sad event occurred Monday, May 21st, 1883, at 9 o'clock, a. m. She lived an exemplary christian. Her heart turned in reverential love and worship to Him who doeth all things well, and from her higher, faithful trust, came the sunlight of that pure religion which illumined her daily life. The latch string of her door was always on the outside for strangers as well as friends; her motto, "Those that entertain strangers, entertain angels unawares." Her neat and tastefully arranged home was adorned by the cultivation of flowers, which rendered it quite attractive for the young. In her sunny presence was the charm of every circle that she graced. We seldom find united so much personal loveliness, intellectual culture and refinement of taste in a being beneath our conception of angelic perfection. Just a few hours after the close of her long and well spent life, we stood by the downy couch, prepared by loving hands, and looked upon the calm, sweet face in the fleecy folds of her cap and tie, but with no feeling of sadness, for oh, how beautiful in death was this dreamless sleeper, with the lingering influence of a pleasant, happy smile as the angels kissed her spirit away. No wonder that the radiance still lingered, it was the re-union of a loving husband and dear ones, the fullest realization of a christian's hope. Yesterday afternoon, tender hands gently bore all that remained of the loved one to the home of the dead, where the soft air of the springtime will kiss the opening flowers that will keep watch over her sacred dust. Farewell, dear friend, loving mother, and sainted grandmother, a long farewell.

The Dark-Browed Azrael

Has again visited our town and claimed another of our loved ones, Mrs. Sallie A. Taylor, wife of the late Rev. James Taylor. Miss Sallie Morris was born Dec. 18th, 1794, in Prince Ann county, Virginia; was married to Rev. James Taylor, Dec. 18th, 1811, and moved early to Harlinburg, Brockenridge county, Ky., where they lived until after her husband's death. Since then, she has made her home here with her daughter, Mrs. H. D. McHenry. The sad event occurred Monday, May 21st, 1883, at 9 o'clock, a. m. She lived an exemplary christian. Her heart turned in reverential love and worship to Him who doeth all things well, and from her higher, faithful trust, came the sunlight of that pure religion which illumined her daily life. The latch string of her door was always on the outside for strangers as well as friends; her motto, "Those that entertain strangers, entertain angels unawares." Her neat and tastefully arranged home was adorned by the cultivation of flowers, which rendered it quite attractive for the young. In her sunny presence was the charm of every circle that she graced. We seldom find united so much personal loveliness, intellectual culture and refinement of taste in a being beneath our conception of angelic perfection. Just a few hours after the close of her long and well spent life, we stood by the downy couch, prepared by loving hands, and looked upon the calm, sweet face in the fleecy folds of her cap and tie, but with no feeling of sadness, for oh, how beautiful in death was this dreamless sleeper, with the lingering influence of a pleasant, happy smile as the angels kissed her spirit away. No wonder that the radiance still lingered, it was the re-union of a loving husband and dear ones, the fullest realization of a christian's hope. Yesterday afternoon, tender hands gently bore all that remained of the loved one to the home of the dead, where the soft air of the springtime will kiss the opening flowers that will keep watch over her sacred dust. Farewell, dear friend, loving mother, and sainted grandmother, a long farewell.

—The Dark-Browed Azrael Has again visited our town and claimed another of our loved ones, Mrs. Sallie A. Taylor, wife of the late Rev. James Taylor. Miss Sallie Morris was born Dec. 18th, 1794, in Prince Ann county, Virginia; was married to Rev. James Taylor, Dec. 18th, 1811, and moved early to Harlinburg, Brockenridge county, Ky., where they lived until after her husband's death. Since then, she has made her home here with her daughter, Mrs. H. D. McHenry. The sad event occurred Monday, May 21st, 1883, at 9 o'clock, a. m. She lived an exemplary christian. Her heart turned in reverential love and worship to Him who doeth all things well, and from her higher, faithful trust, came the sunlight of that pure religion which illumined her daily life. The latch string of her door was always on the outside for strangers as well as friends; her motto, "Those that entertain strangers, entertain angels unawares." Her neat and tastefully arranged home was adorned by the cultivation of flowers, which rendered it quite attractive for the young. In her sunny presence was the charm of every circle that she graced. We seldom find united so much personal loveliness, intellectual culture and refinement of taste in a being beneath our conception of angelic perfection. Just a few hours after the close of her long and well spent life, we stood by the downy couch, prepared by loving hands, and looked upon the calm, sweet face in the fleecy folds of her cap and tie, but with no feeling of sadness, for oh, how beautiful in death was this dreamless sleeper, with the lingering influence of a pleasant, happy smile as the angels kissed her spirit away. No wonder that the radiance still lingered, it was the re-union of a loving husband and dear ones, the fullest realization of a christian's hope. Yesterday afternoon, tender hands gently bore all that remained of the loved one to the home of the dead, where the soft air of the springtime will kiss the opening flowers that will keep watch over her sacred dust. Farewell, dear friend, loving mother, and sainted grandmother, a long farewell.

—The Dark-Browed Azrael Has again visited our town and claimed another of our loved ones, Mrs. Sallie A. Taylor, wife of the late Rev. James Taylor. Miss Sallie Morris was born Dec. 18th, 1794, in Prince Ann county, Virginia; was married to Rev. James Taylor, Dec. 18th, 1811, and moved early to Harlinburg, Brockenridge county, Ky., where they lived until after her husband's death. Since then, she has made her home here with her daughter, Mrs. H. D. McHenry. The sad event occurred Monday, May 21st, 1883, at 9 o'clock, a. m. She lived an exemplary christian. Her heart turned in reverential love and worship to Him who doeth all things well, and from her higher, faithful trust, came the sunlight of that pure religion which illumined her daily life. The latch string of her door was always on the outside for strangers as well as friends; her motto, "Those that entertain strangers, entertain angels unawares." Her neat and tastefully arranged home was adorned by the cultivation of flowers, which rendered it quite attractive for the young. In her sunny presence was the charm of every circle that she graced. We seldom find united so much personal loveliness, intellectual culture and refinement of taste in a being beneath our conception of angelic perfection. Just a few hours after the close of her long and well spent life, we stood by the downy couch, prepared by loving hands, and looked upon the calm, sweet face in the fleecy folds of her cap and tie, but with no feeling of sadness, for oh, how beautiful in death was this dreamless sleeper, with the lingering influence of a pleasant, happy smile as the angels kissed her spirit away. No wonder that the radiance still lingered, it was the re-union of a loving husband and dear ones, the fullest realization of a christian's hope. Yesterday afternoon, tender hands gently bore all that remained of the loved one to the home of the dead, where the soft air of the springtime will kiss the opening flowers that will keep watch over her sacred dust. Farewell, dear friend, loving mother, and sainted grandmother, a long farewell.

—The Dark-Browed Azrael Has again visited our town and claimed another of our loved ones, Mrs. Sallie A. Taylor, wife of the late Rev. James Taylor. Miss Sallie Morris was born Dec. 18th, 1794, in Prince Ann county, Virginia; was married to Rev. James Taylor, Dec. 18th, 1811, and moved early to Harlinburg, Brockenridge county, Ky., where they lived until after her husband's death. Since then, she has made her home here with her daughter, Mrs. H. D. McHenry. The sad event occurred Monday, May 21st, 1883, at 9 o'clock, a. m. She lived an exemplary christian. Her heart turned in reverential love and worship to Him who doeth all things well, and from her higher, faithful trust, came the sunlight of that pure religion which illumined her daily life. The latch string of her door was always on the outside for strangers as well as friends; her motto, "Those that entertain strangers, entertain angels unawares." Her neat and tastefully arranged home was adorned by the cultivation of flowers, which rendered it quite attractive for the young. In her sunny presence was the charm of every circle that she graced. We seldom find united so much personal loveliness, intellectual culture and refinement of taste in a being beneath our conception of angelic perfection. Just a few hours after the close of her long and well spent life, we stood by the downy couch, prepared by loving hands, and looked upon the calm, sweet face in the fleecy folds of her cap and tie, but with no feeling of sadness, for oh, how beautiful in death was this dreamless sleeper, with the lingering influence of a pleasant, happy smile as the angels kissed her spirit away. No wonder that the radiance still lingered, it was the re-union of a loving husband and dear ones, the fullest realization of a christian's hope. Yesterday afternoon, tender hands gently bore all that remained of the loved one to the home of the dead, where the soft air of the springtime will kiss the opening flowers that will keep watch over her sacred dust. Farewell, dear friend, loving mother, and sainted grandmother, a long farewell.

—The Dark-Browed Azrael Has again visited our town and claimed another of our loved ones, Mrs. Sallie A. Taylor, wife of the late Rev. James Taylor. Miss Sallie Morris was born Dec. 18th, 1794, in Prince Ann county, Virginia; was married to Rev. James Taylor, Dec. 18th, 1811, and moved early to Harlinburg, Brockenridge county, Ky., where they lived until after her husband's death. Since then, she has made her home here with her daughter, Mrs. H. D. McHenry. The sad event occurred Monday, May 21st, 1883, at 9 o'clock, a. m. She lived an exemplary christian. Her heart turned in reverential love and worship to Him who doeth all things well, and from her higher, faithful trust, came the sunlight of that pure religion which illumined her daily life. The latch string of her door was always on the outside for strangers as well as friends; her motto, "Those that entertain strangers, entertain angels unawares." Her neat and tastefully arranged home was adorned by the cultivation of flowers, which rendered it quite attractive for the young. In her sunny presence was the charm of every circle that she graced. We seldom find united so much personal loveliness, intellectual culture and refinement of taste in a being beneath our conception of angelic perfection. Just a few hours after the close of her long and well spent life, we stood by the downy couch, prepared by loving hands, and looked upon the calm, sweet face in the fleecy folds of her cap and tie, but with no feeling of sadness, for oh, how beautiful in death was this dreamless sleeper, with the lingering influence of a pleasant, happy smile as the angels kissed her spirit away. No wonder that the radiance still lingered, it was the re-union of a loving husband and dear ones, the fullest realization of a christian's hope. Yesterday afternoon, tender hands gently bore all that remained of the loved one to the home of the dead, where the soft air of the springtime will kiss the opening flowers that will keep watch over her sacred dust. Farewell, dear friend, loving mother, and sainted grandmother, a long farewell.

—The Dark-Browed Azrael Has again visited our town and claimed another of our loved ones, Mrs. Sallie A. Taylor, wife of the late Rev. James Taylor. Miss Sallie Morris was born Dec. 18th, 1794, in Prince Ann county, Virginia; was married to Rev. James Taylor, Dec. 18th, 1811, and moved early to Harlinburg, Brockenridge county, Ky., where they lived until after her husband's death. Since then, she has made her home here with her daughter, Mrs. H. D. McHenry. The sad event occurred Monday, May 21st, 1883, at 9 o'clock, a. m. She lived an exemplary christian. Her heart turned in reverential love and worship to Him who doeth all things well, and from her higher, faithful trust, came the sunlight of that pure religion which illumined her daily life. The latch string of her door was always on the outside for strangers as well as friends; her motto, "Those that entertain strangers, entertain angels unawares." Her neat and tastefully arranged home was adorned by the cultivation of flowers, which rendered it quite attractive for the young. In her sunny presence was the charm of every circle that she graced. We seldom find united so much personal loveliness, intellectual culture and refinement of taste in a being beneath our conception of angelic perfection. Just a few hours after the close of her long and well spent life, we stood by the downy couch, prepared by loving hands, and looked upon the calm, sweet face in the fleecy folds of her cap and tie, but with no feeling of sadness, for oh, how beautiful in death was this dreamless sleeper, with the lingering influence of a pleasant, happy smile as the angels kissed her spirit away. No wonder that the radiance still lingered, it was the re-union of a loving husband and dear ones, the fullest realization of a christian's hope. Yesterday afternoon, tender hands gently bore all that remained of the loved one to the home of the dead, where the soft air of the springtime will kiss the opening flowers that will keep watch over her sacred dust. Farewell, dear friend, loving mother, and sainted grandmother, a long farewell.

—The Dark-Browed Azrael Has again visited our town and claimed another of our loved ones, Mrs. Sallie A. Taylor, wife of the late Rev. James Taylor. Miss Sallie Morris was born Dec. 18th, 1794, in Prince Ann county, Virginia; was married to Rev. James Taylor, Dec. 18th, 1811, and moved early to Harlinburg, Brockenridge county, Ky., where they lived until after her husband's death. Since then, she has made her home here with her daughter, Mrs. H. D. McHenry. The sad event occurred Monday, May 21st, 1883, at 9 o'clock, a. m. She lived an exemplary christian. Her heart turned in reverential love and worship to Him who doeth all things well, and from her higher, faithful trust, came the sunlight of that pure religion which illumined her daily life. The latch string of her door was always on the outside for strangers as well as friends; her motto, "Those that entertain strangers, entertain angels unawares." Her neat and tastefully arranged home was adorned by the cultivation of flowers, which rendered it quite attractive for the young. In her sunny presence was the charm of every circle that she graced. We seldom find united so much personal loveliness, intellectual culture and refinement of taste in a being beneath our conception of angelic perfection. Just a few hours after the close of her long and well spent life, we stood by the downy couch, prepared by loving hands, and looked upon the calm, sweet face in the fleecy folds of her cap and tie, but with no feeling of sadness, for oh, how beautiful in death was this dreamless sleeper, with the lingering influence of a pleasant, happy smile as the angels kissed her spirit away. No wonder that the radiance still lingered, it was the re-union of a loving husband and dear ones, the fullest realization of a christian's hope. Yesterday afternoon, tender hands gently bore all that remained of the loved one to the home of the dead, where the soft air of the springtime will kiss the opening flowers that will keep watch over her sacred dust. Farewell, dear friend, loving mother, and sainted grandmother, a long farewell.

—The Dark-Browed Azrael Has again visited our town and claimed another of our loved ones, Mrs. Sallie A. Taylor, wife of the late Rev. James Taylor. Miss Sallie Morris was born Dec. 18th, 1794, in Prince Ann county, Virginia; was married to Rev. James Taylor, Dec. 18th, 1811,

